CHAPTER-VII

CODE OF CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE FOR AVOIDANCE OF SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY

Preamble

In a fast changing society, wherein the education and employment of women has become the norm rather than exception, and where the proportion of women is likely to increase steadily in every of life, it is essential to ensure nondiscriminatory safe environment in which women can learn or work. Unfortunately, the tendency to treat women as inferior, whose real place is within the confines of house is still prevalent in the minds of quite a few men, who find it difficult to accept them as equal. This tendency, which emanates from a sense of insecurity in the minds of men, develops into hostility towards women. Further, men take advantage of the vulnerability of women and indulge in undesirable behavior. Under these circumstances, the question of sexual harassment has gained momentum in all Educational Institutions and working places. It could be the other way also. In stray cases, a female in power and authority, may also take advantage of her position and exploit the vulnerability of her male subordinates. Such a situation is negligible.

Sexual harassment is a serious criminal offence which can destroy human dignity and freedom. In an effort to promote the wellbeing of the students and the staff, this code of conduct is framed to deal with claims of sexual harassment in which students and staff are either the alleged victims or the alleged assailants.

In all matters of sexual harassment, the University shall be aware of the extreme personal sensitivity of such issues. The University shall maintain confidentiality in matters concerning alleged victims and alleged assailants in instances of sexual harassment. This shall in no way preclude any statistical report of such incidents as may be required by any local or state agency.
